The Bourbon County Commission met in open session with all commissioners and the county clerk present. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Bills and payroll for the period were reviewed and approved.

Craig and Dana McKenney, Reece McKenney, Andrew Suddock, Patrick Swetz and Senator Bob Marshall met with commissioners to discuss the curve at 1100 240th Street, the site of an accident last week which claimed the life of the McKenney's daughter, Parker. Sheriff Ron Gray, Undersheriff Bill Martin and County Attorney Terri Johnson were also present. The McKenney's asked that additional signage and reflectors be placed before the curve, coming from the south, to prevent a future tragedy, though, they stressed that they did not blame the County for their daughter's death. They asked that improvements be made today.

Terry Graham made a motion to go into executive session, for a period of five minutes, under the attorney/client privilege exception to the Kansas Open Meetings Act. Harold Coleman seconded the motion and all voted in favor. Those present for the session were the commissioners, Terri Johnson, Marty Pearson, Joanne Long and Ron Gray. The session began at 9:54 am and ended at 9:59 am with no action.

Commissioners signed the R&S Digital contract, which was discussed last week and has been reviewed by Terri Johnson.

After speaking with KCAMP, commissioners authorized Marty Pearson to place new signs prior to the curve at 1100 240th Street. Marty said we have two signs and that he will order reflectors.

Marty Pearson gave a road report.

Jim Garrett, GBA Architects Engineers, spoke with commissioners about bridge inspections. The commissioners will keep his company in mind for the future.

Cindy Delfelder and John O'Brien, ING, met with commissioners to discuss a Deferred Compensation plan available through the State. No action.

Terri Johnson spoke with commissioners about easement issues.

Mrs. Johnson also spoke with commissioners about the space situation with her office. Commissioners authorized her to look into alternatives.

After routine business, the meeting adjourned at 12:30.
